TERROR FIEND ON MI5 RADAR FOR TWO YEARS

London Bridge attacker judged to be only a 'medium' risk

THE ringleader of the London Bridge terror gang was the subject of a two-year MI5 investigation prior to the atrocity, a report reveals.

Khuram Butt, from Barking, was the subject of various kinds of "coverage" from the middle of 2015 following information suggesting he aspired to carry out an attack in the UK.

The assessment of intelligence handling published on Tuesday said: "Though it continued to varying degrees until the day of the attack, it did not reveal the plans of Khuram Butt and his two co-conspirators."

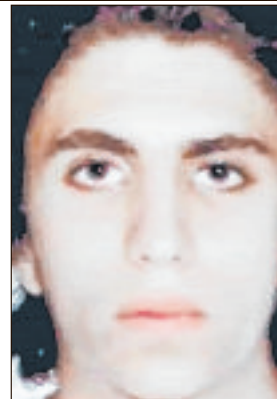

On June 3 a van ploughed into people on London Bridge before 27-year-old Butt, Moroccan Rachid Redouane, 30, also from Barking, and 22-year-old Italian/Moroccan Youssef Zaghba, launched a knife rampage around Borough Market.

Eight victims were killed and the perpetrators were shot dead by police.

Butt was the only terrorist involved in the four attacks examined in the review who was a live "subject of interest" and under active investigation at the time of the attack.

Born in Pakistan in 1990, his family moved to England in 1998, claiming asylum before being given indefinite leave to remain in 2004. Butt was given British citizenship in 2005.

In January 2016 Butt, who had

LONDON BRIDGE TERROR GANG: Khuram Butt, Rachid Redouane and Youssef Zaghba

no criminal convictions, was identified posing with an Islamic State flag in the Channel 4 television documentary The Jihadis Next Door.

While under investigation by MI5, Butt was arrested for fraud in October 2016 and granted bail.

Two days before the attack, a decision was made not to prosecute him.

From mid-2015 until the attack, Butt was the principal subject of Operation Hawthorn, an MI5 investigation opened "following information suggesting that he aspired to conduct an attack in the UK".

In September 2015, a potential lone actor "triage assessment" concluded that Butt represented a "medium" risk due to his "strong intent but weak capability".

From late 2015 to early 2016 there was no further indication of attack-planning, and Butt's focus seemed to be moving towards overseas travel.

The operation was suspended from February to April 2016 because of resourcing constraints after the Paris attacks, and then downgraded in the second half of last year.

Investigation of Butt was again suspended in March before Operation Hawthorn was re-opened less than a month before the attack.

The report says: "Material relating to Khuram Butt received in the two weeks prior to the attack on June 3 added little to the intelligence picture and did not identify the activity that led up to the attack. As of June 3, the date of the attack, Hawthorn remained a live investigation."

An MI5 review convened after the attack concluded the investigation into Butt was "run well" and the decisions taken in the investigation were sound in the light of what was known at the time.

The report added that though a number of learning points were identified, the review team "concluded that none of the points identified resulted in missed opportunities to detect and prevent the attack".

Redouane and Zaghba were never investigated by MI5.

Restaurant boss fined over roach infestation

THE owner of an Indian restaurant must pay more than £5,000 following the discovery of a cockroach infestation.

Eastern Paradise in Ripple Road, Barking, was visited unannounced by Environmental Health Officers (EHO) earlier this year, after a customer reported seeing a cockroach.

Owner Molik Choudhury appeared at Barking Magistrates' Court on Friday, November 24 and was fined £2,500.

Costs of £2,589.50 were awarded to the Borough of Barking and Dagenham Council.

Eastern Paradise was voluntarily closed following the EHO inspection.

The inspection noted a series of food hygiene breaches on top of the cockroach infestation in the kitchen and dining area.

Cooked food had been left uncovered and there was a defective wall covering within the kitchen.

The owner had also failed to register his establishment.

The court was told the restaurant posed an imminent risk to public health, and the owner was aware of the cockroach problem, but continued to trade regardless.

The restaurant has reopened after completing a deep clean and operates with a hygiene rating of four.

Best foot forward for Aziz

A BUDDING 16-year-old footballer from Barking has fulfilled his dream of playing for England's partially sighted team.

Aziz Mugenyi, a student at Barking and Dagenham College, has been playing football from a young age and is an avid Spurs fan.

He travelled with the rest of the squad to Glasgow on Saturday, December 2.

Aziz put in a sterling performance, helping his team to a 3-0 win over Scotland.

Partially blind football is based on indoor futsal, with a small number of adaptations.

Lights are regulated and balanced at all times, the ball is a clearly contrasting colour to the pitch, and the goalkeeper cannot leave their area.

Aziz was introduced to disability sport when he was scouted by Leyton Orient, while playing football at school.

He played for the O's for a year, before switching to Tottenham Hotspur.

Aziz said: "I was very excited about getting called up for my first game for the England under-17s.

"I would like to progress in my football career and continue to play for England in the future."

DON'T DELAY, BOOK AN EYE TEST TODAY

With opticians on every high street and a growing number of out of town locations, keeping on top of your eye health has never been more convenient.

But despite that, a survey* has revealed that a quarter of UK adults are still risking sight loss by not having an eye test every two years, as recommended.

The research carried out by Specsavers and Royal National Institute of Blind People also identified that 250 people nationally start losing their sight every day despite half of all cases being avoidable. Routine eye tests are key in detecting and managing issues early.

Specsavers has just opened its 800th UK and Irish store in Sainsbury's in Preston – part of its ongoing drive to make eye care more accessible. It is the fifth outlet Specsavers has opened within a supermarket this year, with more to follow.

ribbon to the 800th store and popped in for an eye test. The cricketer turned broadcaster said: 'So many of us take our sight for granted. To see how far eye care has developed since Specsavers opened its first store is incredible.'

Specsavers features the latest clinical technology and highly qualified and professional teams. Complete glasses start at £25 with two for one available from £69. A variety of designer styles, including Kylie Minogue Eyewear, BOSS Orange and the new Balmain range are also available.

Eye tests can be booked online. Customers that have undergone an eye test elsewhere are welcome to bring in a valid prescription. Specsavers offers home eye care to those who cannot visit a store unaided. Free hearing tests are also available at Specsavers.
